Yale Educator Speaks on "With

Roman and Moor in

Andalusia."

Prof. Charles Upson Clark of Yale

University, who has recently been appointed director of the School of Classical Studies in the American Academy at Rome, delivered a lecture on "With Roman and Moor in Andalusia" at a meeting of the Washington

Society of the Archaeological Institute and Research, which was founded for his work in Rome, organized and Passes to Granada.

From Cordova the lecturer passed to Granada, the latest Saracen state to arise and the last to fall before the Christians.

The lecturer explained how his ruler spent his summers in the generally high above the Barro valley, and in winter in the Alhambra, with its red roofs, its tiles and arched windows, its glories of the Vega and the Sierras.

From here a journey was taken through bold mountains to Almodovar and Moratalla, and then back to Almodovar
